

Frank Braham - Documents, Advertisements and Artefacts.

Of special interest are the numismatic pieces (in this case French coins) that Frank Braham used to advertise his advertisement in the Postal Guide! He wasn't alone in using this form of communication with the general public - Pear's Soap, the 'Clapham Observer', Mitchell (a Brighton Saw maker), and George Dix (a Clerkenwell Gas Lamp Maker), all used this medium!

Actual size

Many of the following documents have, over the years, appeared in the Perfin Society Bulletin, and the scans made by Maurice Harp have been gathered together here for convenience. Please note that the exact scale of the originals is generally not now known, so the images have been displayed at a scale appropriate for viewing as comfortably as possible.

Note that the address changed from Tabernacle Square to Tabernacle Street c1885, so the following documents have been split into two distinct groups.

- Tabernacle Square - pre 1885.
- Tabernacle Street - 1885 or later.

 FOR 1d. PER SHEET.

NO CHARGES WHATEVER FOR DIE.

Orders must not be for less than £5 worth, and accompanied by Draft (London) or Cash. Particulars Post Free.

Although displayed first, this particular advertisement (believed to be from an 1884 London Trade Directory) may well have followed the next two 'Flyers', neither of which is dated.

Tabernacle Square - 2

Although photocopied many times over and now almost illegible, this is quite possibly the forerunner of the 'Flyer' shown on the next page but one as it has been less professionally produced. It is likely to date to 1882-1883. There is no cost for perforating at this time.

WITH THE INITIALS OF ANY FIRM,
FREE of all Charges whatever,
FOR ORDERS OF £5 AND UPWARDS.

By this entirely New System a great Commercial want is supplied, a saving effected, and a temptation to appropriate avoided.

Extract from "POST OFFICE GUIDE,"—page 14.

"In consequence of representations made to the Post Office by various Firms that there is reason to believe that their postage stamps were purloined by persons in their employ, the Department has recommended that the initials of firms, &c., be perforated through the stamps by means of a machine devised for the purpose; so that the sale of such stamps being thereby rendered difficult Postmasters having been instructed not to purchase any of them, there may be little or no temptation to steal them.

"The Perforation of the Stamps on Post Cards, Newspaper Wrappers, and Embossed Envelopes, with initials, is also not objected to."

The great advantages of this system are--Prevention of Theft and Prevention of the Sale of Stamps so perforated, Postmasters having instructions not to purchase them. It is fully recognised and desired by the P. O. authorities. It is an Advertisement without cost. It is adapted for Postage and Receipt Stamps, Foreign Mail, Telegraph, and Judicial Stamps. Stamps so perforated are not liable to removal in transit.

NO CHARGE for DIE, PERFORATING, or COMMISSION.

Attention is drawn to the fact that all Stamps are delivered in sheets as issued from Somerset House. Perforated perfectly one way, not reversed or divided, and the initials clear and distinct from the separative margins.

Orders must amount to £5 if more than one initial is required.

All Orders for Stamps must be accompanied by Cash, Bank Draft, or Cheque payable in London, crossed "City Bank, Old St.," to the Order of F. BRAHAM, or previous arrangements may be made for payment on delivery.

Orders received by First Morning Post will be delivered the following day. For further information, if desired, a representative will be sent.

SPECIAL!

Since the introduction by the P. M. General of Savings Bank Deposit Forms for Single Stamps, it is most important that all users of Stamps adopt this system of Perforation--such security being without cost.

For smaller users £1 worth can be supplied perforated with one initial while waited for at P. O.

Tabernacle Square - 3

This early advertisement (from the Post Office Archives) shows the 'ever present' "RH/&JP" example with another example "E/&C^o". This new example is a good match for "E/&C^o". (E0785.01). Note that there is still no cost for the die, or for perforating.

Good achieved by preventing Embezzlement of Stamps WITHOUT Charge or Cost.

F. BRAHAM Tabernacle Square Post Office, begs to draw attention to his perfectly new system of Perforating all kinds of Revenue, Telegraph, and Postage Stamps, whereby Firms can be supplied with any quantity of Stamps of not less value than £5, Perforated with any number of Initials desired, without any Cost for DIE, PERFORATING, OR COMMISSION.

By this entirely New System a great Commercial want is supplied, good achieved, saving effected, temptation to appropriate avoided.

Hitherto, Firms desirous of having Perforated Stamps, had either to do them at a great cost of time, with a press liable to get out of order (by reason of inferior make), or pay from 10/- to 25/- for a die according to the number of letters, such special die to be retained by the Stationer supplying stamps; or pay a commission for perforating them. This is now entirely avoided. Attention is drawn to the fact that all Stamps are delivered in sheets as issued from Somerset House, Perforated perfectly one way, not reversed or in pieces.

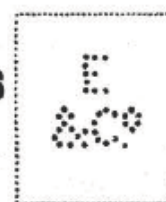

Country Orders receive prompt attention.

Delivery to all parts daily.

Tabernacle Square - 4

This particular example of a Frank Braham advertising 'Flyer' has been well printed, and probably dates to the 1883-1884 period. It also illustrates three 'Perfins', although only one of which has been recorded as a Perfin - "RH/&JP" (R2390.01). It also shows an enlarged image of a then current postage stamp which the GPO objected to! By this time a cost of 1d per sheet is levied for perforating, but still no charge for the die.

Tabernacle Street - 1

This next 'Flyer' is much the same as the previous two examples, although the address has now become Tabernacle Street, so dates to 1885 or later. There are also subtle changes in font, positioning of text, and the text itself, particularly between the two stamps at the bottom of the advertisement. However, perhaps the most obvious change is the replacement of the example of a perforated stamp used in the lower right-hand corner. The "AZ/&C^o" die is not known as a Perfin.

These two 'letters', as far as we know, were not produced by Frank Braham (although he may well have orchestrated them), nor do they mention him by name. However, they talk about the stamp perforating service available at the Tabernacle Street Post Office, and so date to 1885 or later.

THE UTILITY OF PERFORATED STAMPS.

To the Editor of the Daily Chronicle,

Sir,—Referring to your paragraph about the burglary on our premises; I may state that among the desks forced was the one containing postage stamps, of which we happened to have a large stock on hand. They had evidently been examined by the thieves, but as they were perforated with the initials of the firm were not taken away. Our object in writing to you is to draw attention to the value of this perforation, not only as a safeguard against the depredations of the burglar, but as a means of removing temptation out of the way of our office boys. Many a poor fellow now in trouble dates his ruin from the time he first commenced to tamper with his employer's postage stamps. The cost of perforation is only one penny for a sheet of 240 penny stamps, and they can be readily obtained from the postmaster, Tabernacle Street, E.C.

I am, Sir, yours, &c.,

For Cope Bros. and Co., (Limited),

W. H. RULLOCK.

Copy of letter from Messrs. T. COOK & SON, Tourist Contractors,
 Ludgate Circus, (Extracted from the Daily News.)

To the Editor of the Daily News.

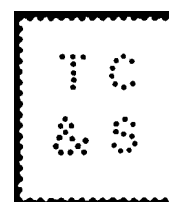

Sir Referring to a letter in your issue re perforated postage stamps, we may say that we in common with many city firms, have all our stamps perforated with our initials at the Post Office at Tabernacle Street, E.C. The postmaster is the inventor of a well known system of perforating postage stamps, and the rule is for us to order a quantity accompanied by remittance and they are delivered to us the following day with only the small additional cost of one penny per sheet for perforating.

We are Sir,

Yours Respectfully,

Thomas Cook & Son.

A 2-page letter from signed by F Braham to Barclay & Fry dated 30th August 1892. This is one of a series of letters from Frank Braham to Barclay & Fry during 1892/3 regarding the proposed perforation of stamps for use by the 'Shanghai Local Post'.

Shows typical 'Standardized' letters used by Frank Braham to perforate postage stamps. Half the alphabet is represented!

I shall be willing to perforate for you sheets of stamps (Shanghai Corps) perfectly, and in a similar manner ...

Payment to be made for perforating monthly. The tools and machinery necessary to do any perforating are my property and do not in any way belong to you, or be at your disposal. I should be pleased if you will confirm this letter and send as early as possible one sheet of each stamp, so that I may progress with the tools required.

FRANK BRAHAM'S STAMP REQUISITION FORM

Although the word 'sheet' is used, in most cases it probably meant a 'large block'. The mention of a 9d stamp puts the form after 1st August 1883 when the 'Lilac & Green' 9d stamp was introduced. The fact that there is no 10d stamp, puts the form before 24th February 1890 when the 10d 'Jubilee' stamp came in. A mid-range date would be c1887.

I wonder if an order was ever received for the £1 and £5 postage stamps.
 Certainly none of Braham's dies are known on these rare items.

Tabernacle Street - 6

As well as perforating postage stamps, Post Cards, Wrappers, and Envelopes, Frank Braham was also a manufacturer of stationery. This Trade Card, presumably of his own manufacture, was sent by Frank Braham to Bird & Sons Ltd, East Moors, Cardiff, in September 1900 acknowledging an order and the receipt of a cheque for £10 and 10d. It is pure speculation what might have been ordered, but the odd 10d would be the charge for perforating 10 sheets of postage stamps, with the stamps themselves costing £10. Note the registered Trade Mark.

Robert Bird & Sons, Grease, Paint & Oil Manufacturers, used three Perfins over the years. The earliest die has the characteristic lettering of Braham's 'Standardized' alphabet, with a type IIIa "&", pointed "C", etc., whereas the replacement die utilises a 14-pin "B", and a type I "&", neither of which are characteristic of Braham's work. Who might have supplied the perforated stamps using the later dies is as yet unknown. Robert Bird (1839-1909) was also a Liberal politician and mayor of Cardiff 1883/4.

And finally, six solutions are possible to the question of what stamps might have been ordered. The simplest case is 10 sheets of 1d Lilacs at £1 per sheet, but perhaps more useful would be a combination of ½d, 1d, and 1½d stamps, for example 2 sheets each of the ½d and 1½d, plus 6 sheets of the 1d Lilac, all plus a charge of 1d per sheet for perforating - total cost £10.0s.10d.

Tabernacle Street - 7

This is believed to be the Stamp Requisition Form that Frank Braham's successor, William Lloyd Kenny, submitted to the Post Office Authorities for approval, and as a consequence dates to 1907. Note that the 7d stamp (not introduced until 4th May 1910) and the £1 stamp are missing from the range of King Edward VII's stamps.
